🇬🇧 SSSSB Story 083b – Responsibilities, Work, and Myself [13+]

Once upon a time, in a small village, there lived a girl who grew up surrounded by love, kindness, and strong values. Her closest companion was none other than her beloved Lord Shree Krishna who always guided and protected her.

Yet, there came a time when doubts clouded her heart. She wondered if she could truly fulfill her responsibilities, whether she was strong enough to face life's challenges, and whether she could trust herself. Burdened by these thoughts, she sat quietly in a beautiful garden and prayed deeply to Lord Krishna within her heart. She knew He always heard her, and she longed for His guidance.

In that moment of prayer, she felt His comforting presence. Lord Krishna's gentle whisper touched her soul:

"Do not be afraid of making mistakes. Mistakes are not failures—they are lessons. Just as a child learns to walk by falling again and again, so too will you grow stronger through your trials."

She also remembered the timeless wisdom of the Bhagavad Gita:

"Do your best, and do not cling to the results."

With His divine grace, her heart filled with courage. She rose with renewed strength and confidence, ready to embrace life's challenges. She performed her duties with sincerity, never gave up, and held firmly to her moral values. Her faith in Lord Krishna deepened, and she blossomed into an exemplary soul—an inspiration to her community, living proof of devotion, resilience, and righteousness.
