

Story 006, part 1: A poor but very happy family

One of the remote village of Nepal there lived a family. In that family there were Grand mother, Grand father, , Mother, father and 2 children. Two children were Prem and Sumi. Elder brother Prem was 12 years and Sumi was 8 years old. They belong to a poor family. So, their parents had to work for their earning to hand and mouth as well as their children's school fees. The mother was working in a Tailor and father was working in a Biscuit factory. The earning of both parents was not enough for their family. So, Mother worked in one of the house as a house hold worker. The mother was from religious family so, she worship the God early in the morning and greet to the elders, take care of the children and cook food for all, to take the children to the school. Their school was not very far from home so grandparents told that they can take the grandchildren to the school. All the family were living happily. The children learn meditation, some Bhajans and some mantras from Grandparents as well as from the mother. Early in the morning they pray to God and before meal they also pray to God and thanked God that what he has given to them. Before going to the school also they always pray to God and then they go to the school. They were in beginning not so good in the school but because of praying, respect to their parents and grandparents, discipline and hardworking they became better and better in school and all other things what Prem and Sumi did.

Story 006, part 2: "After using the please give it back"

In the school Prem had many friends and one of the friends was from rich family. His name was Arun. By being a rich family, he was getting everything he wanted. But he was helpful and helped the friends if they need the educational materials. One day Prem forgot to bring pencil in the school. Arun gave him one of the pencil which was in his school bag. He said to Prem: - " After using please give me it back, so I can give to the other person who needed it." Prem said:- " Sure, I will return to you." Prem used it and after that unknowingly he kept it in his bag. He forgot to return it back. After the school he went home back with his sister. Mother had prepared the Tiffin to them. They had a Tiffin and went to play. After playing they started to do their Homework. He took out all the educational materials from the bag. Then he saw the pencil which was given by his friend Arun. He felt regret and said to his mother, that had taken with the friend and forgot to give him back. Prem's mother said: - " if you haven't bring intentionally so don't worry; you can give him back tomorrow." Prem said: - " Mother I have to go back to his house and give it to back because he told me that after using should give it back and can give to other needy person." Then mother said: - " Now, it is getting dark, you can't go alone; tomorrow I will go with you together in the school and I will tell you to your friend Arun. Then Prem said to mother: - " Today I forgot the Pencil, so from tomorrow I always check my school bag before going to the school and I will teach my sister also to do so." Then Mother said:- Good; now you understand that what is your duty before going to school

Story 006, part 3: Arun didn't come at school more

When Prem arrived at school, he directly searched for Arun to return his pencil. But Arun left the school because Arun's mother was a doctor and a hospital in a other city far from here need mother immediately to serve patents. Prem was very sad and feel very guilty he couldn't give the pencil back. He completed his study from that school and studied in the University. After completed his study from the University Prem started job in a company. One day he met Arun in the same company after 15 years, Arun also was working in the same company. Prem remembered the pencil he has to give back to him which he had kept safely with him. The next day Prem returned back the pencil to Arun. Arun became surprised, he had forgotten that he had given to Prem when they were in the school. Arun also remembered that he had taken the things from others and couldn't returned it back. Then he returned everything which he had forgotten to return to the friends and other people. Arun felt so happy when he returned all those things. So, ever after he never forget to return the things which he takes from others.
