

There was a 7-year-old girl who was very kind to everyone, as if they were all part of her own family.

Some examples of her good character:

- 1 She had asked her parents to buy her extra school supplies. These extra pencils, pens, rulers, notebooks, and sharpeners were especially bought so she could lend them to classmates who had forgotten theirs.
- 2 She helped other students with their homework.
- 3 She kept an agenda where she wrote down the birthdays of all her classmates, family, and friends, and she always made a beautiful birthday card with a positive message that suited each person. 🎂

Because of this, all her classmates and others liked her, and without asking, she received blessings from her parents, grandparents, teachers, and of course also from Bhagwan Baba. ✨

? Questions of the Day

- 1 For which people are you kind, and why? Give examples of what you do.
- 2 Are there classmates or others to whom you are not yet kind, and why?
