🇬🇧 SSSSB Story 074b – “About God” [13+]

After class, three students were sitting together on a bench.

Student 1 was confused: “I don't understand. Is it Lord Rama, Lord Krishna, or Lord Isa Kristu?”

Student 2 remained silent and listened to Student 1 and Student 3 while the three of them sat together on the same bench.

Student 3 was also confused:

“I don't understand either. Is it Lord Shiva, Lord Buddha, or Swami Shri Sanjay Sai?”

Student 2 did not understand what was happening.

“You both seem confused,” she said.

“You talk about Lord Rama, Lord Krishna, or Lord Isa Kristu, and about Lord Shiva, Lord Buddha, or Swami. Why is that?”

Student 1 replied: “My parents argue every day. My mother says that Lord Rama is God, and my father says that Lord Krishna is God. They both try to convince me. And yesterday my aunt came to visit, and she said that Lord Isa Kristu is God. That's why I am confused.”

Student 3 replied: “At my home it is also about God every day. My parents argue every day. My mother says that Lord Shiva is God, and my father says that Lord Buddha is God. They both try to convince me. And yesterday my uncle came to visit, and he said am confused.”

Student 1 and Student 3 looked at Student 2 and asked:

“And what about you? Do your parents also argue every day about who God is?”

Student 2 — that is YOU. Give your answer to the two other students. Always speak from your own view and your own experience.

Question of the Day & Heart-Work

What is your view about God? Always speak from your own view and your own experience.
